

To whom it may concern:

I do not feel we should start making exceptions to an existing law. A bank should have no more right to harrass former customers than any one else. We should not allow the NO CALL law to be watered down or weakened.